First Presbyterian Church of Kingwood

A Family of Faith. A Home for You.

Welcome!

At First Presbyterian we're "a family of faith with a place for you" and we're glad you're here today. We hope you sense God's presence as we worship. If you're new to our church, take a moment after worship to drop by our "Connection Center" outside the sanctuary. Every week, at the end of worship, we invite people to join us and become members of Christ's church in this place. A brochure in each pew explains how worshippers become members. Once again, welcome. Let's worship God together now with all our heart and mind and soul and strength.

Call to Worship

Hymn #601 Battle Hymn of the Republic Battle Hymn
(Verses 1, 3-5)

Prayer of Confession
Lord God, we come to you confessing that we are a sinful people. As a nation, as a church, as individuals, we turn from you time and time again. We are willful and want to go our own way rather than follow the path you have set before us. Most Holy God, we confess our sins before you and we seek your healing hand upon us. We ask because you have assured us that you are "gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and rich in love." Lord, in your mercy hear our prayers and forgive our sin. Blot out our iniquities. Amend what we have been, and help us to live lives pleasing to you. For the sake of Jesus, we pray. Amen.

Assurance of Pardon
L: Who is in a position to condemn? Only Christ. And Christ came for us, Christ died for us, Christ rose again from the dead for us.
P: If anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation. All that is old has passed away and in Christ all things are made new. We declare the Good News, that in Jesus Christ we are forgiven. Praise be to God! Amen.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion

L: The Lord be with you.
P: And also with you.
L: Lift up your hearts.
P: We lift them up to the Lord.
L: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
P: It is right to give our thanks and praise.

A Communion Prayer (In Unison)
Merciful Lord, we do not presume to come to this your table trusting in our own righteousness. Rather we trust in your bountiful grace. We are not worthy to partake at this table, but you bid us to come. Grant us to eat and drink so as to discern the body of Christ broken for us and the blood of Christ shed for us. Then may we rise from this table to live in such a way that we continue to dwell in Christ and he in us both now and forevermore. Amen.

Today's Music

Today's special music features American hymns played by the instrumental ensemble. The words to "Brethren, We Have Met To Worship" were written by George Atkins, a Methodist pastor who worked in Ohio and Tennessee in the early 19th century. The tune, HOLY MANNA, was first published in 1825 by William Moore, who claimed authorship. Moore was from western Tennessee, and the structure of the tune is very conducive to singing in canons (rounds) in the "primitive" style. The words emphasize the expectation of encountering God in worship, and the words equate the Holy Spirit "coming down" to us in worship like manna did daily for the Israelites on their way to the Promised Land.

"I Surrender All" is from the late 19th Century, when large crusades and camp meetings were very popular. Wordsmith Judson Van De Venter (1855-1939) was an artist and art teacher who was involved in evangelistic work. His inner struggle between the desire to become a well-known artist and responding to God's call to full-time evangelism ended when he made the decision one night to "surrender all." He wrote the words in 1896 and his musical associate, Winfield Weeden (1847-1908) wrote the music. There is also an interesting connection between this evangelist and Billy Graham. Graham writes of meeting Van De Venter in Florida in the 1930's as a student and being influenced by "this kind, gentle, deeply spiritual man."
